Cut out just dropping in somewhere for your clothes --- come to Berry's, where there's something to come for!

The idea of "dropping in" is all wrong. It doesn't ring right. It is invertebrate and purposeless. It gets you nothing and nowhere. It is too casual. It is not a pressing invitation-it is depressing. Don't be a "dropperin"! Come around! Don't wait till you're in the neighborhood - Come Now! Berry's is no free-lunch establishment to drop in on-it's an honest-to-goodness clothing shop to come to, whether you're in the neighborhood or not. There's nothing casual about our invitation nor about our clothes. We are serious, and these Easter Clothes show it. They look casual, it is true, but that's the result of the serious efforts we put into them. They have the easy lines that indicate hard work. They have the style, the individuality, the deft and delicate touches, which are the product of conscientious endeavor and artistic skill. And you can just bet we didn't make these clothes by "dropping in" on the proposition casually! We had to take off our coats and get down to it!
